

James Haynes '18
Editor-in-Chief

Robert Freeman '20
Chief Web Editor

Joaquim Brooks '20
Financial Manager

Wright Crawford '20
Events Manager

Paul R. Draper '18
paulrd@princeton.edu
Publisher

Dear Reader,

I hope that this issue has convinced you that the Tory is a student publication worth supporting.

Our goal is to offer a real debate on campus issues between liberals and conservatives, not to continue a campus culture of toeing the University's liberal line. We present the best of conservative ideas, and we train conservatives how to think and to challenge institutional liberalism.

A few more things. If you give $25 or more to the Tory, we will send you a full year of issues at no cost. For $500 or more, The Tory will provide you with free issues of our magazine for as long as we continue to operate. Also, if it is more convenient for you, please consider donating online at www.princetontory.com. Remember, only the Tory will give you a campus perspective distinct from the administration's narrative.

Please consider giving one of the following amounts:

___$25 ___$50 ___$100 ___$250
___$500 ___$1,000 ___Other ($_____)

Return to:

From:

The Princeton Tory
P.O. Box 1499
Princeton, NJ 08542

We are always trying to find new alumni to support the Tory. If you know other alumni to whom we should send a free copy of the Tory, please write their names and addresses below. If you only know their names and year, we can find their addresses. Thank you.

Name _____ Class Year _____

Address _____

Name _____ Class Year _____

Address _____

Thank you for your generous support. Paul R. Draper '18, Publisher

P.O. BOX 1499 • PRINCETON, NJ • 08542